What she sees and recommends

Two taps for what she sees and the hair-loss stage (Ludwig for women, Norwood for men): these become the labels Invita's photo model learns from. Then the treatment and the Scalp Scrubber. Each pick becomes a slide.

Your turn

Are the Milbon products sold online, or only at the spas?

Invita's Shopify sells one care product today, the Scalp Scrubber. Ariel can only recommend what Sarah can buy.

- Only at the spas
- Online soon
- Online already, in another shop

One tap. You can change it later.

Later: Invita's AI drafts, Ariel decides

SARAH'S NEXT QUESTION

"Is it OK to start before the appointment?"

DRAFT, AFTER ARIEL ANSWERED

Yes, start today with the scalp scrubber. Book in the next two weeks so we can check it properly.

Ariel sees the draft only after recording her own answer, so the AI learns from her, not the other way round.

INVITA'S RULES, TESTED ON EVERY DRAFT

Your rules go here (on the right).

WHEN IT MAY ANSWER ALONE

Only after the tests pass, only for the questions you allow, and anything outside your rules always goes to a person.

INVITA

The rules it must keep

Invita's rules are tested on every draft. The AI drafts in the background first; Ariel stays in charge until the tests pass.

Your turn

What must an answer never say, and when must Ariel send someone to a doctor?

These become fixed rules, and a test Invita's AI must pass every time.

For example: never promise a result; send anyone with pain to a doctor.
